

WILSON PRESENTS PROGRAM FOR WORLD PEACE

SITUATION IS REVIEWED BY WAR OFFICIAL

Sec. Baker Tells of Military Operations For Week Ending Jan. 3

BRITISH SUCCESSFUL IN 16 SUCCESSIVE BATTLES

French and British Can Be Relied Upon to Withstand Assault

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 8.—The expected German offensive in the west, Secretary Baker's weekly war review today says, "will possibly be their greatest assault," the British and French armies can be relied upon to withstand the shock.

Summarizing the situation on the eve of a possible great offensive, Secretary Baker confidently points out that through sixteen fierce battles of great magnitude the British and French have steadily pushed ahead with methodical and cumulative gains. The expected offensive, he points out, probably is being delayed for missing great supplies of munition, guns and troops and the Germans may be expected to "strain every fibre of their remaining strength."

On the Italian front, the secretary points out, French successes have turned the scale against the Austro-German invaders and the west bank of the Piave is being held firmly, hampered by heavy snow falls in the Alps, he says, the invader now is confronted with a tremendous handicap of maintaining his transport which neutralizes the advantage of holding higher ground.

The period of adjustment, Secretary Baker says, has passed and it may now be expected that "the French, British and Italians, fighting side by side will be able to master the situation."

The review which this week makes no mention of American troops follows:

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 8.—Secretary of War Baker today authorized the publication of the following review of the military operations for the week ending January 3, 1918:

"Six weeks have elapsed since the first rumors reached us of the great thrust in the west which the enemy then announced as imminent. In order to concentrate large troop masses, adequate artillery and ample reserves of munitions, much time is required."

"Though the German higher command has so long delayed before beginning operations, advice received seemingly confirm the information that important actions are contemplated along the western front. They may be counted upon to strain every fibre of their remaining strength in endeavor to make their plans succeed."

"In considering the general military situation on the eve of a possible German offensive it must be recalled that through 16 successive battles of great magnitude in Flanders the British have every time come out victorious and pushed steadily ahead. Their gains have been methodical and cumulative. The Germans have during this long series of major operations invariably been forced to give way. The French stood like a rock at Verdun and soon after drove forward vigorously in the battle of the Somme and in turn played a great part in the repeated drives in Flanders."

"The impending German offensive will possibly be their great assault. The French and British armies can be relied upon to withstand the shock."

"In the west no important operations took place during the past seven-day period. The entire front from the North Sea to the Swiss border was very active. The Germans continued their widely-scattered thrusts, while the French and British parried with numerous reconnoitering raids and careful patrollines. They remained on the quiet, taking note of every minor change in German order of battle, keeping closely informed of hostile troop-movements and concentrations."

"In the Cambrai area the enemy undertook an attack in force. Were the Germans in attempting a flanking movement which had as its immediate objective the further narrowing down of the British salient were able to penetrate and hold temporarily certain British trench elements south of Maroing. This action was conducted with great energy. The British immediately counted and were able to recapture a part of their lost positions."

"Another hostile thrust was undertaken close to the canal on local advantage as he was able slightly to press back the British. Southwest of Lens the enemy made a renewed attempt to reach the British outposts but this assault collapsed before any result could be achieved."

Prof. Stockton Axson.

A brother-in-law of President Wilson has been appointed secretary general of the American Red Cross. He is Prof. Stockton Axson of Houston, Tex., and succeeds Charles L. Magee, who will remain with the Red Cross in another capacity, it is said.

NATIONAL CRISIS IN GERMANY MAY BE DEVELOPING

London, Jan. 8.—Advices from the capitals of neutral countries bordering on Germany show that the opinion prevalent there is that one of the most severe national crises in the history of Germany is developing as a result of the difference of views between the militaristic and non-militaristic leaders, regarding the government's attitude toward Russia.

It is reported generally that General Von Ludendorff, as leader of the former group, actually has gone so far as to threaten the resignation of himself and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg if further countenance is given even to such views as those advanced by men of the type of Dr. Von Kuehlmann, and Count Czernin, the German and Austrian foreign ministers.

BELIEVE VENICE WELL PROTECTED FROM INVASION

Venice, Monday, Jan. 7.—The public schools, which were ordered closed when Venice was threatened and the city evacuated, have been ordered to reopen on January 15. This is an indication of the re-establishment of normal conditions, as the school board in making the order declared its confidence that the defenses were sufficient to insure the protection of Venice from invasion.

The first aid raid alarm in weeks was sounded Sunday afternoon when Austrian airplanes appeared over San Marco in broad daylight. Sirens and anti-aircraft guns announced the approach and Italian aviators ascended to give battle. But the enemy threw no bombs and hurried westward when they saw that the defensive preparations were complete.

TRANSFER AFFECTS NEWARK OFFICERS

Transfers from one detachment to another are constantly occurring at Camp Sherman, and a number of transfers were made on Monday. Among them is noted the transfer of Lieut. Charles Barrett, from the 35th Infantry regiment to the 10th and a half century as one of the fighting officers by General Glenn. Fifteen officers have been designated by Gen. Glenn to take up the duties of the troops when they are sent overseas.

OHIO ELECTRIC GETS THE HABIT

Columbus, Jan. 8.—Announcement was made from the state public utility commission today that the Ohio Electric company filed a new rate schedule for a general increase in passenger rates, which will increase the rates so that passengers will pay two cents a mile between certain points and up to two and a half cents a mile between other points. If the commission approves the proposed schedule, February 1 is the date set for the new rates to be in effect.

COMPANY CANNOT AMEND ITS CORPORATION PAPERS

Columbus, Jan. 8.—In a ruling to Secretary of State Follen, Attorney General McGee today held that the Edward H. Everett company of Newark, manufacturers of glass and bottles, cannot amend its incorporation papers to include practical farming.

RUSSIANS TO REOPEN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

Berlin Dispatch States Representatives at Brest-Litovsk

POLITICAL SITUATION OF GERMANY VERY SERIOUS

Believed In London Central Powers Will Answer Premier's Statement

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)

Russia apparently will continue peace negotiations with the central powers at Brest-Litovsk. A Berlin dispatch received in Copenhagen says that Russia's representatives arrived at Brest-Litovsk Monday and that the negotiations were to be reopened yesterday afternoon. Foreign Minister Trotsky accompanied the delegation.

Official confirmation of this report is lacking, but probability is lent to it by the fact that neither Russia nor the central powers has declared officially that the peace negotiations have been broken off definitely. Germany suspended the negotiations temporarily late last week because it could not meet the Russian request that the conference be transferred to Stockholm.

The political situation in Germany brought about over the annexation policy of the government is mostly serious, according to reports from neutral capitals. It is reported that General von Ludendorff, as leader of the militarist group, threatened the resignation of himself and Field Marshal von Hindenburg should the government continue to support Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann's peace plans. The German social democrats have adopted a resolution against declaring that the honest recognition of the demand for the principle of the right of self-determination in occupied territories only can bring lasting peace.

In London it is felt that the central powers will be compelled to make full answer to Premier Lloyd George's statement of war aims, which apparently has brought about better relations between the British leader and Premier Clemenceau have congratulated the British leader on his statement. The British newspapers in their comment express disbelief in the sincerity of the British premier's words.

Intense artillery duels continue on the western front, but the Germans have carried out only two raids—one southeast of Ypres and the other northwest of Verdun—which were repulsed by the British and French, respectively. The German artillery fire in the Ypres sector has been very strong for some days and the occasional raids there may be forerunners of a determined attack in an effort to regain possession of the dominating hills in southeastern Flanders. Reconnoitering engagements along the Piave and lively artillery duels between the Asiago and the Piave have occupied the troops on the Italian front.

Ten sailors were lost in the sinking by a submarine of a British torpedo boat destroyer in the Mediterranean. All others on the vessel, including the officers, were saved.

KENTUCKY FACING A PROHIBITION FIGHT IN PRESENT SESSION

(Associated Press Telegram)

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 8.—Faced with necessity of making a decision which probably will occur for many years the state's future course toward prohibition, the Kentucky general assembly convened in biennial session here today.

Most of the new members of the body, among whom are all the members of the house of representatives and one-half the membership of the senate, were nominated and elected upon a pledge to submit to the voters of the state a prohibition amendment to the state constitution.

Until the passage by congress of the resolution submitting to the states a prohibition amendment to the federal constitution the course the general assembly would take was considered a foregone conclusion. With the passage of that resolution, however, the situation became somewhat involved, and now it seems probable that a fight on the prohibition issue may come off all.

One element in the general assembly would submit a state wide amendment to the voters, postponing action on the federal amendment while another important element will attempt to secure a decision on both questions. The opinion is widely held that the first course will be followed. Advocates of the opposite course, however, are not without strength.

Next to prohibition, probably the most important question expected to come before the general assembly is a proposal for the abolition of the wage system in dealing with the state's affairs. It is also possible that an attempt may be made during the session to further modify the state tax laws which were reconstituted as a special session.

RECOMMENDED FOR TRANSFER. It is understood that First Lieut. John Sherman Flock of the 22nd Light Field Artillery at Camp Sherman, has been recommended for transfer to Fort Sill, Okla.

AWAITING A REPLY TO THE STATEMENT OF LLOYD GEORGE

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, Jan. 8.—A reply from the central powers to the statement of British war aims made by Premier Lloyd George Saturday is awaited here with the greatest interest. It is believed that Germany and her allies cannot decline to reply in some form and to make the reply more straight forward and definite than any previous statement of their aims.

But if the German papers correctly mirror the situation there, the test which the Bolsheviks have made of Germany's attitude toward the principle of no annexations has thrown Germany into political turmoil. The view of Dr. von Kuehlmann and Count Czernin, the German and Austrian foreign ministers (all to satisfy the German socialists who regarded their middle of the road policy as tricky and who are determined that the spirit of the reichstag resolution must be followed sincerely and without qualification or reserve.

Neutral observers declare that the gap between the German parties suddenly has become a chasm so wide that there is little hope of bridging it, and that the development of an internal crisis of serious proportions seems inevitable.

On the other hand it is pointed out that the various parties in entente countries never appeared so completely united as in their support of the war aims formulated by Premier Lloyd George.

THE IDENTITY OF JOHN PUDDY HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED

(Associated Press Telegram)

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 8.—The desire to serve his country and wide publication of a dispatch from Dallas two weeks ago that he did not know his name or place of birth, led to the location and identity of the mother of "John" Puddy, according to Captain Walter Ball, in charge of the naval recruiting station here. The mother is Mrs. Jack Puddy, of Bolton, Texas.

Two weeks ago young Puddy applied for enlistment in the navy. He passed a perfect physical examination, but said the only name he knew was Puddy, and that he did not remember his parents or birthplace.

John has been given a furlough and left today for a visit to his mother.

NEW CANDIDATES AT TRAINING SCHOOL; HAVE FIRST WORK

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Jan. 8.—Preparedness is Camp Sherman's motto. Despite the fact that there already are six foot-bridges across the Scioto river, built by division engineers, the 308th engineers are to begin the construction of a 435-foot suspension bridge within the next 10 days.

Camp authorities fear the thaws and spring rains, which will flood the lowlands of the cantonment, will wash away the foot-bridges now here. The pontoon bridge which was built some weeks ago out of barrels, is saving the officers no worry for they are confident of its structure.

Material is being assembled for the new structure and as soon as there is sufficient quantity available Colonel Hannah, in command of the 308th engineers, will start work on the project. The bridge is designed to accommodate units in columns of two.

The 650 candidate officers in the new training school today put in their first real work under the direction of Colonel Hannah and his officer-instructors. These men were all uniformed last night, in time to hear Major General Glenn and Colonel Hannah welcome them to camp. Most of the effects of the inoculation against typhoid have worn off.

Despite his original intentions to have group competition, Colonel Hannah at the eleventh-hour decided it was best to mix the men up and assign them to squads according to height. There now will be six platoons to each of the two infantry companies. Each day a new set of officers will be appointed to serve for that period and each of the 40 men in a platoon will get more chances to be in command of the men of his platoon.

Today the men had a practice march of an hour without equipment. Later, they had several hours of conferences and lectures, in which the fundamentals of a soldierly attitude and bearing and military etiquette, the care of their rifles and equipment and the theory of musketry firing was covered. Each week's work will consist of 42 hours of actual study and drill in addition to study necessary to prepare assignments.

Medical officers who examined the civilians who have reported have been pleased with the type of men chosen. Not a single man failed to pass with colors flying. Five cadets—four of them from the Ohio State University and one from Ohio Northern University—have failed to put in their appearance. Their places are being held open.

Independent taxi-cab men still are hoping for the best, despite the war department's dictum that the entire situation is up to General Glenn whether they shall get into camp. Garrett Claypool, who is representing the men, in Washington, wired yesterday that he would have another conference with Secretary Baker.

Major B. B. McCroskey, who has been assistant chief of staff to Major General Glenn, has been assigned to command the 324th machine gun battalion. It was said at division headquarters today that Major Eric Fisher Wood, formerly of the British army, may succeed Major McCroskey.

One hundred officers, graduates of southern training camps, who have been in service at Camp Wadsworth in South Carolina, have been assigned to Camp Sherman and are arriving daily.

Twelve selects have been detailed on temporary special duty in the camp quartermaster department. The following enlisted men have been detailed for temporary duty at the horsehoofers' school as instructors for excellence in the course in horseshoeing they have just completed: E. F. Kline, headquarters company, 31st Infantry; T. L. Wise, supply company, 322d Infantry; J. Golembosky, battery A, 322d field artillery; W. F. Hackley, supply company, 324th field artillery; Robert Fennell, company A, 368th signal battalion; Leonard Lange, and L. J. Jewers, 330th ambulance company, E, 308th ammunition train, company.

MESSAGE GOES TO ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD

New York, Jan. 8.—Distribution to all parts of the world of President Wilson's address to congress today by cable and wireless has been arranged for by the committee on public information. The sending was to begin at the press censor's office here as soon as word was received from Washington that the president had begun to speak.

Wilson's Program for World Peace Contains Fourteen Specific Considerations, Freedom of Seas, Evacuation of Territory and Reparation for Taking of Alsace-Lorraine

CULMINATING AND FINAL WAR FOR HUMAN LIBERTY AND WE ARE READY FOR THE TEST

Processes of Peace When They Are Begun Must Be Open and Involve No Secret Understandings of Any Kind—United States Entered Into War Because Violations of Right Had Occurred Which Made the Life of Our People Impossible Unless They Were Corrected—World Must Be Made Safe For All Peace Loving Nations

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 8.—With a new statement of war aims, approving the recent declarations of the British premier, Lloyd George, President Wilson presented to congress and the world a specific declaration of the terms on which it would be possible to make peace with the German military autocracy.

The president's program is composed of 14 separate articles and provides for restoration and reparation, guarantees for territory and national life, freedom of the seas and access to them, reduction of armaments and guarantees for the sanctity of agreements between nations.

In a word, the president said, the program removes the chief provocations to war.

But in order that his pronouncement should be definitely understood as one of war aims rather than peace aims, the president declared: "For such arrangements and covenants we are willing to fight and to continue to fight until they are achieved."

This he followed with a restatement that the world wars only upon a Germany crazed by war, not upon a Germany of peaceful pursuits no matter how great they may be.

"We wish her only to accept a place of equality among the peoples of the world," said the president. "The new world in which we now live—instead of a place of mastery."

These aims, the president declared, shared by the co-belligerents, were the aims of the peoples of the United States for which they are willing to sacrifice everything.

"The moral climax of this, the culminating and final war for human liberty has come," said the president in conclusion, "and they (the people of the United States) are ready to put their own strength, their own highest purpose, their own integrity and devotion to the test."

The program for world peace, removing as the president said, the chief provocations for war and therefore "the only possible program," he presented as follows:

1. Open covenants of peace without private international understandings.
2. Absolute freedom of the seas in peace or war except as they may be closed by international action.
3. Removal of all economic barriers and establishment of equality of trade conditions, among nations consenting to peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.
4. Guarantees for the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety.
5. Impartial adjustment of all colonial claims based upon the principle that the peoples concerned have equal weight with the interest of the government.
6. Evacuation of all Russian territory and opportunity for Russia's political development.
7. Evacuation of Belgium without any attempt to limit her sovereignty.
8. All French territory to be freed and restored, and reparation for the taking of Alsace-Lorraine.
9. Readjustment of Italy's frontiers along clearly recognizable lines of nationality.
10. Freest opportunity for autonomous development of the peoples of Austria-Hungary.
11. Evacuation of Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro, with access to the sea for Serbia and international guarantees of economic and political independence and territorial integrity of the Balkan states.
12. Secure sovereignty for Turkey's portion of the Ottoman empire but with other nationality under Turkish rule assured security of life and opportunity for autonomous development, with the Dardanelles permanently opened to all nations.
13. Establishment of an independent Polish state, including territories inhabited by indisputably Polish populations, with free access to the sea and political and economic independence and territorial integrity guaranteed by international covenant.
14. General association of nations under specific covenants for mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to large and small states alike.

"For such arrangements and covenants," said the president in conclusion, "we are willing to fight and continue to fight until they are achieved, but only because we wish the right to prevail and desire a just and stable peace."

Such a program, he said, removed chief provocations for war. "The moral climax of this, the culminating and final war for human liberty has come," said the president in ending his address, "and they (the people of the United States) are ready to put their own strength, their own highest purpose, their own integrity and devotion to the test."

The practical agreement of fundamentals in the president's program with those expressed by the British premier made an immediate and profound impression upon all who heard him.

Coming at a moment when Germany faces the demands of her socialists for abandonment of any program of annexations and indemnities and also faces the failure of the peace negotiations at Brest-Litovsk, the president's pronouncement developed into tremendous importance as he spoke it word by word to a crowded chamber of legislators, diplomats and officials who gave him the closest attention. Although the address was punctuated liberally by applause, there was one great demonstration when the president declared France must have right for the wrong in Alsace-Lorraine. At that, the entire assembly arose, applauded and cheered loudly. Otherwise, the president's address was delivered in the silence which denotes the rapid attention of an audience which realizes that it was passing through a great quarter of an hour in the life of the world.

To the German people the president gave a reassurance that there was no aim to impair their peaceful greatness. "We have no jealousy of German greatness," he said, "and there is nothing in this program that impairs it. We grudge her no achievement or dis-tion of learning or of pacific enterprise such as have made her record very bright and very enviable. We do not wish to injure her or to block in any way her legitimate influence or power. We do not wish to fight her, either with arms or with hostile arrangements of trade, if she is willing to associate herself with us and the other peace loving nations of the world in a covenant of justice and law and fair dealing. Neither do we presume to suggest to her any alteration or modification of her institutions. But it is necessary, we must frankly say, and necessary as a preliminary to any intelligent dealings with her on our part, that we should know whom her spokesmen speak for when they speak to us, whether for the German reichstag majority or for the military party and the men whose creed is imperial domination.

The president made clear at the outset that the German statesmen having again challenged their adversaries to a re-statement of war aims he undertook to respond to it with the utmost candor. The British premier's declaration, the president referred to as having been spoken with "admirable candor and in admirable spirit for the people and government of Great Britain."

"The only secrecy of counsel," he added, "the only lack of fearless frankness, the only failure to make statement of the objects of the war, lies with Germany and her allies."

The voice of the Russian people, prostrate and all but helpless, with power apparently shattered but souls not subservient, called for a statement of aims and the president added, he responded "with utter simplicity and frankness."

At this point the president went on to enumerate the 14 essentials of his program.

The president occupied just 23 minutes in delivering his address. The visiting Serbian mission sat with the members of the cabinet and joined in the applause that greeted the declaration for restoration of Serbia and the freedom of the Balkan peoples. Each statement of the program was greeted with some applause as the president read it, and there was no division of approval apparent between the parties.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 8.—The president spoke as follows:

Gentlemen of the Congress—Once more, as repeatedly before, the spokesmen of the central empires have indicated their desire to discuss the objects of the war and the possible basis of a general peace. Parleys have been in progress at Brest-Litovsk between Russian representatives and representatives of the central powers and the attention of all the belligerents have been invited for the purpose of ascertaining whether it may be possible to extend these parleys into a general conference with regard to terms of peace and settlement.

The Russian representatives presented not only a perfectly definite statement of the principles upon which they would be willing to conclude peace, but also an equally definite program of the concrete application of those principles. The representatives of the central powers, on their part, presented an outline of settlement, which, if much less definite, seemed susceptible of liberal interpretation until their specific program of practical terms was added. That program proposed no concessions at all, either to sovereignty of Russia, or to the preferences of the population with whose fortunes it dealt but meant, in a

WHAT NEWARK MEN THINK OF UNCLE SAM'S WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

T. M. Edmiston, bookdealer and stationer:—Comparatively few of us can go to the trenches and actually fight to win this war. Every child, every woman, every man CAN help win it by buying War Savings Stamps. We can't win without money. The people, you and I, must furnish it. It is a shame if we do not. How much easier it is for us to give up some of our needless extravagances, and LOAN the money thus saved, to Uncle Sam, getting a good rate of interest for it, instead of going to the front with all that that implies. Those who do not buy these stamps are not good loyal citizens. They are slackers and should be so considered.

Fred S. Wilson, county auditor:—So far as an investment I know of no better than the War Savings stamp. It is simple, easy, safe and convenient in every way. The savings feature should appeal to all classes, old and young, rich or poor, and citizens and foreigners. American patriotism alone should make this effort to secure finance for the great Cause of Humanity an overwhelming success.

J. M. Mitchell, clothier:—Because of the great wealth in our natural word, that the central empires were to keep every foot of territory their armed forces had occupied—every province, every city, every point of vantage—as a permanent addition to their territories and their power. It is a reasonable conjecture that the general principles of settlement which they at first suggested originated with the more liberal statesmen of Germany and Austria, the men who have begun to feel the force of their own peoples' thought and purpose, while the concrete terms of actual settlement came from the military leaders who have not thought but to keep what they have.

The negotiations have been broken off. The Russian representatives were sincere and earnest. They cannot entertain such proposals of conquest and domination.

The whole incident is full of significance. It is also full of opportunity. With whom are the Russian representatives dealing? For whom are the representatives of the central powers speaking? Are they speaking for the majorities of their respective parliaments or for the minority parties, that military and imperialist minority which has so far dominated their whole policy and controlled the affairs of Turkey and of the Balkan states which have felt obliged to become their associates in this war? The Russian representatives have insisted, very justly, very wisely, and in the true spirit of modern democracy that the conferences they have been holding with the Teutonic and Turkish statesmen should be held within open, not closed-doors, and all the world has been audience, as was desired. To whom have we been listening, then? To those who speak the spirit and intention of the resolutions of the German reichstag of the ninth day of July last, the spirit and intention of the liberal leaders and parties of Germany, or to those who resist and defy that spirit and intention and insist upon conquest and subjugation? Or, are we listening, in fact, to both, unreconciled and in open and hopeless contradiction? There are very serious and pregnant questions. Upon the answer to them depends the peace of the world.

But whatever the results of the parleys at Brest-Litovsk, whatever the confusions of counsel and of purpose in the utterances of the spokesmen of the central empires, they have again attempted to acquaint the world with their objects in the war and have again challenged their adversaries to say what their objects are; what sort of settlement they would deem just and satisfactory. There is no good reason why that challenge should not be met. In fact, to both, unreconciled and in open and hopeless contradiction? There are very serious and pregnant questions. Upon the answer to them depends the peace of the world.

There is no confusion of counsel resources Americans have secured a comfortable living while other nations have with difficulty maintained an existence. As a consequence we are notoriously the most extravagant and wasteful of all peoples. Thoughtful people for some time have seen that we must change our course, but there existed neither the need nor the machinery for the systematic saving of small amounts. Christmas Money Clubs do some good in teaching thrift, but they do not go far enough. The war has given us the need of saving and the War Savings Stamp the machinery to do it successfully. Success in the sale of stamps will serve three great purposes: In the first place it will aid in our great work of defeating the Kaiser and so in the words of President Wilson, make the world safe for democracy. In the second place, it will make people of small means, including children, who have been unable to subscribe for Liberty Bonds, to share in the work of the government, and in the third place, it will make us a nation of savers instead of wasters and so better prepare us for the reconstruction days after the war. For these reasons every one should invest in the War Savings Stamp, the most ingenious scheme of money-raising and thrift-teaching, of which I have ever heard.

among the adversaries of the central powers, no uncertainty of principles, no vagueness of detail. The only security of counsel, the only lack of fearless frankness, the only failure to make definite statement of the objects of the war lies with Germany and her allies. The issues of life and death hang upon these definitions. No statesman who has the least conception of his responsibility ought for a moment to permit himself to continue this tragical and appalling outpouring of blood and treasure unless he is sure beyond a peradventure that the objects of the vital sacrifice are part and parcel of the very life of society and that the people for whom he speaks think them right and imperative as he does.

"There is, more over, a voice calling for these definitions of principle and of purpose which it seems to me, more thrilling and more compelling than of the many moving voices with which the troubled air of the world is filled. It is the voice of the Russian people. They are prostrate and all but helpless, it would seem, before the grim power of Germany, which has hitherto known no relenting and no pity. Their power, apparently, is shattered. And yet their soul is not subservient. They will not yield either in principle or in action. Their conception of what is right, of what is humane and honorable for them to accept, has been stated with a frankness, a largeness of view, a generosity of spirit, and a universal human sympathy which must challenge the admiration of every friend of mankind; and they have refused to compound their ideals or desert others that they themselves may be safe. They call to us to say what it is that we desire, in what, if anything, our purpose and our spirit differs from theirs; and I believe that the people of the United States would wish me to respond with utter simplicity and frankness. Whether their present leaders believe it or not it is our heartfelt desire and hope that some way may be opened whereby we may be privileged to assist the people of Russia to attain their utmost hope of liberty and ordered peace.

"It will be our wish and purpose that the processes of peace, which they are begun, shall be absolutely open and that they shall involve and permit henceforth no secret misunderstandings of any kind. The day of conquest and aggrandizement is gone by; so is also the day of secret covenants entered into in the interest of particular governments and likely at some unlooked for moment to upset the peace of the world. It is this happy fact, now clear to the view of every public man whose thoughts do not still linger in an age that is dead and gone, which makes it possible for every nation whose purposes are consistent with justice and the peace of the world to avow now or at any other time the objects it has in view.

"We entered this war because violations of right had occurred which touched us to the quick and made the life of our own people impossible unless they were corrected and the world secured once for all against their recurrence. What we demand in this war, therefore, is nothing peculiar to ourselves. It is that the world be made fit and safe to live in; and particularly that it be made safe for every peace-loving nation which, like our own, wishes to live its own life, determine its own institutions, be assured of justice and fair dealing by the other peoples of the world as against force and self-aggression. All the peoples of the world are in effect partners in this interest and for our own part we see very clearly that unless justice be done to others it will not be done to us. The program of the world's peace, therefore, is our program and that program, the only possible program, as we see it, is this:

I. Open covenants of peace, openly arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understandings of any kind but diplomacy shall proceed always frankly and in the public view.

II. Absolute freedom of navigation upon the sea, outside territorial waters, alike in peace and in war, as the seas may be closed in whole or in part by international action for the enforcement of international covenants.

III. The removal, so far as possible, of all economic barriers and the establishment of an equality of trade conditions among all the nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.

IV. Adequate guarantees given and taken that national armaments will be reduced to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety.

V. A free, open-minded, and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims, based upon a strict observance of the principle that in determining all such questions of sovereignty the interests of the populations concerned must have equal weight with the equitable claims of the government whose title is to be determined.

VI. The evacuation of all Russian territory and such a settlement of all questions affecting Russia as will secure the best and freest co-operation of the other nations of the world in obtaining for her an undiminished and unembarrassed opportunity for the independent determination of her own political development and national policy and assure her of a sincere welcome into the society of free nations under institutions of her own choosing; and, more than a welcome, assistance and every kind that she may need and may herself desire. The treatment accorded Russia by her sister nations in the months to come will be acid test of their good will, of their comprehension of her needs as distinguished from their own interests, and of their intelligent and unselfish sympathy.

VII. Belgium, the whole world will agree, must be evacuated and restored, without any attempt to limit the sovereignty which she enjoys in common with all other free nations. No other single act will serve as this will serve to restore confidence among the nations in the law which they have themselves set and determined for the government of their relations with one another. Without this healing act the whole structure and validity of international law is forever impaired.

VIII. All French territory should be freed and the invaded portions restored, and the wrong done to France by Prussia in 1871 in the matter of Alsace-Lorraine, which has unsettled the peace of the world for nearly fifty years, should be righted, in order that peace may once more be made secure in the interest of all.

IX. A readjustment of the frontiers of Italy should be effected along clearly recognizable lines of nationality.

X. The peoples of Austro-Hungary, whose place among the nations we wish to see safeguarded and assured, should be accorded the freest opportunity of autonomous development.

XI. Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro should be evacuated, occupied territories restored, Serbia accorded free and secure access to the sea and the relations of the several Balkan states to one another determined by friendly counsel along historically established lines of allegiance and nationality; and international guarantees of the political and economic integrity of the several Balkan states should be entered into.

XII.—The Turkish portions of the present Ottoman empire should be assured a secure sovereignty, but the other nationalities which are now under Turkish rule should be assured an undoubted security of life and an absolutely unmolested opportunity of autonomous development, and the Dardanelles should be permanently opened as a free passage to the ships and commerce of all nations under international guarantees.

XIII.—An independent Polish state should be erected, which should include the territories inhabited by indisputably Polish population which should be assured a free and secure access to the sea and whose political and economic independence and territorial integrity should be guaranteed by international covenant.

XIV.—A general association of nations must be formed under specific covenants for the purpose of affording mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike. In regard to these essential rectifications of wrong and assertions of right we feel ourselves to be intimate partners of all the governments and peoples associated together against the imperialists. We cannot be separated in interest or divided in purposes. We stand together until the end.

For such arrangements and covenants we are willing to fight and to continue to fight until they are achieved; but only because we wish the right to prevail and desire a just and stable peace, such as can be secured only by removing the chief provocations to war, which this program does remove. We have no jealousy of German greatness and there is nothing in this program that impairs it. We regard her no achievement or distinction or learning or of pacific enterprise such as have made her record very bright and very enviable. We do not wish to injure her or to block in any way her legitimate influence or power. We do not wish to fight her either with arms or with hostile arrangements of trade, if she is willing to associate herself with us and the other peace-loving nations of the world in covenants of justice and law and fair dealing. We wish her only to accept place of equality among the peoples of the world—the new world in which we no live—instead of a place of mastery.

Neither do we presume to suggest to her any alteration or modification of her institutions. But it is necessary, we must frankly say, and necessary as a preliminary to any intelligent dealings with her on our part, that we should know whom her spokesmen speak for when they speak to us, whether for the reichstag majority or for the military party, and the men whose creed is imperial domination.

We have spoken now, surely, in terms too concrete to admit of any further doubt or question. An evident principle runs through the whole program I have outlined. It is the principle of justice to all peoples and nationalities, and their right to live on equal terms of liberty and safety with one another, whether they be strong or weak. Unless this principle be made its foundation no part of the structure of international justice can stand. The people of the United States could as use no other principle, one to the vindication of this principle they are ready to devote their lives, their honor, and everything that they possess. The moral climax of this, the culminating and final war for human liberty has come, and they are ready to put

DOWN AND OUT MOTHER BRACES UP. SURPRISES WHOLE FAMILY

She had worked, loved and was happy in doing for her children, and when she started to break down they were frantic, were willing to do almost anything to make her last years happy and free from worry and illness. Nothing they did seemed to help; doctors, medicines or rest gave no results.

Finally, when all were about desperate with worry a neighbor induced them to try Phosphated Iron. It had worked such wonders with her old folks. Ready to grasp at any help they got a supply and the way their mother improved from the start was almost too good to believe. It sure was a happy and reunited family and you can bet they are all boosting Phosphated Iron to the limit.

Doctors the world over will tell you that Phosphates and Iron will build up and restore strength and energy against old age and nervous break-downs. One of our leading physicians says: "The results I have obtained with Phosphated Iron have been great in cases of old people, where it was necessary to build up strength, revive bodily functions, give them life, renewed youth and health."

There must be something to it. Doctors and druggists all tell the same story of success.

PRES. WILLIAMS NAMES COMMITTEES COUNCIL TO SERVE NEXT TWO YEARS; ANNUAL REPORTS OF OFFICIALS FILED

The first meeting of the new city council elected at the late November election, was held last night, in the mayor's office, President R. L. Williams presiding for the first time, and giving evidence that there will be no slow draggy meetings under his administration. The council met at the usual hour, transacted the regular volume of business customary at such meetings and had adjourned at prompt 9 o'clock.

The roll call by Clerk J. S. Wood and disclosed all members present as follows: Lester Newkirk, E. O. Riggs, T. D. Keyes, Frank Knauber, Peter

R. L. WILLIAMS.

Faust, T. A. Bazler, Philip Baker, J. Ashbrook and Charles Redman. There was also present a number of city officials, the mayor's appointees, elect and a few interested spectators. The first official act of President Williams was the announcement of his standing committees as follows:

Finance—Messrs. Keyes, Knauber, and Faust.

Street—Messrs. Newkirk, Redman, Keyes, Ashbrook, Baker, and Riggs.

Service—Faust, Baker and Bazler.

Safety—Baker, Faust and Redman.

Law—Knauber, Riggs and Ashbrook.

County Relations—Redman, Ashbrook and Knauber.

State Relations—Bazler, Redman, and Newkirk.

The committees as named were adopted by council and will serve for the next two years.

Mr. Knauber was elected to serve as president pro tem of the council.

Mayor Atherton made his report, showing that the sum of $192 had been collected in fines and licenses.

The annual report of ex-Mayor R. C. Bigbee was read to council after which it was received and filed.

Following is the report:

The number of cases tried before me for all offenses during the year 1917, totaled 1,628, of which 1,021 were for intoxication, 117 for assault and fighting, 102 for disorderly conduct, 79 grand and petit larceny, 35 for operating an automobile contrary to law, and 50 for begging, loitering and prowling. Others were for petty offenses.

In 1916 the number of cases tried by me was 1787, and for which the fines and costs in city cases amounted to $1,607.40. The fines in state cases amounted to $2,098.75, the mayor's fees being $822.25, chief of police being $42.80 and witness fees and taxi-cab hire, $12.30. Licenses collected during the year amounted to $1,105.50.

For the past year I collected a total in fines and costs in city cases of $1,238.40 and $1,882.86 in state cases, the mayor's fees being $954.30 and the officers fees $438.05. Licenses collected, $860.

Respectfully submitted,

R. C. Bigbee, Mayor.

City Auditor Nelson Dodd presented his yearly report as follows:

To the Honorable Council of the City of Newark, O.

Gentlemen—I desire to submit the following report covering in a general way a brief review of the past four years administration. In doing so I hope to be able to point out some salient features that may serve as a guide in the administration of the city's affairs during the next two years. It is not my purpose to go into details at this time as time and space will not permit, but in due time I shall submit a detailed report covering all the financial transactions of the city. At this time I desire to summarize briefly the facts concerning the improvement work that has been done.

In the first place, allow me to state that during the past four years 8-4 miles of street paving, nine miles of sewerage, and 7-1-4 miles of sidewalks have been laid. The total at the present time is approximately 23 miles of paving, 31-1-2 miles of sewers, and 49 miles of sidewalks.

More than 100 streets or parts of streets have come in for their share of these improvements, and the total cost has aggregated considerably more than a half a million dollars.

Naturally all this has necessitated the sale of bonds to pay for the cost of the same. In this connection there has been 48 bond issues, totaling 763 bonds in all, and amounting to $701,216.11. During the same period, bonds have matured to the amount of $256,889.06. From this will be seen that the bonded indebtedness of the city has increased; the net increase of which is $444,227.05, or 55 per cent. Of this amount, $203,917.00 is for special improvements alone—that is, for paving, sewers and sidewalks.

It is true that included in these figures are issues of $240,000 for grade-crossing elimination, but this is an indebtedness that will have to be met in the same way as all other indebtedness.

An examination of the records also discloses this fact—namely: for at least the next eight years the total amount of bonds and interest that will have to be paid annually approximates $130,000. This means that the tax levy required to meet this indebtedness for the next eight years approximates one-half the total amount needed each year for all city purposes, and that an annual increase in the bonded indebtedness must necessarily mean a decrease in the revenue for operating purposes.

Considerable legislation has already been passed providing for street improvements for which the actual work has not yet been started and for which the bonds have not yet been sold to pay the cost of said improvements. The cost of these improvements will, alone, approximate $50,000. In addition to the figures that have already been given, there is another feature to be considered when contemplating any new improvements in the future and that is the conditions existing, due to the war. Not only will the cost of the improvements be greatly increased, but the bond-market is so uncertain that there is absolutely no assurance that the necessary money can be had for carrying on the improvements.

When all these facts are taken into consideration it would seem wise to defer all improvements for the time-being except, perhaps, those for which legislation has already been passed and such other as are absolutely necessary to be made.

Respectfully submitted,

A. NELSON DODD.

The new city solicitor, Attorney H. A. Ashcraft, then asked that all requests be presented to him in writing.

A communication was received from the Holophane company asking permission to build a side track near Oakwood avenue. This together with a drawing of the proposed track was received and filed.

An ordinance was presented by Mr. Knauber amending the last paragraph of ordinance 2769, granting all extra and sub-police the minimum salary of $85 per month. It was passed under a suspension of the rules.

A second ordinance by Mr. Knauber granted permission to the Holophane company to build and maintain a sidetrack starting 106 feet west of Oakwood avenue and extending 19 feet east of Oakwood avenue, the same to be completed within four months. It was passed under a suspension of the rules.

Ordinance on second reading—By Mr. Knauber, regulating the trimming of all shade trees of the city extending over walks and streets.

Ordinance on third reading—By Mr. Curry, fixing the fees of the mayor and chief of police in city cases to conform with those of justice of the peace and constables. Passed.

By Mr. Knauber—Naming the first street north of the South Fork of the Licking river Calbourne street, and changing the name of German street to Willwood avenue. This caused some little discussion and Councilman Knauber explained how the ordinance happened to be left over for the new council, stating that on account of irregularities two petitions which had been presented new council were thrown out and then two new ones were presented just before the old council went out of office and which contained the names of 80 per cent of the property owners on those streets and who asked that the change be made. Councilman Keyes stated that it was purely a patriotic move on the part of the old council. The ordinance was then placed upon final reading and passed unanimously.

By Mr. Shirer—Changing the name of Baker and Pataskala streets to National Drive. This ordinance also passed unanimously.

A resolution was next introduced requesting that the H. B. Cohen company be notified to take down the gasoline service station in front of the Ford garage in East Main street, in accordance with a report of the law committee read at the last meeting, which claimed that by allowing the station to stand it would establish a precedent for others. Councilman Newkirk spoke against the resolution while Councilman Knauber opposed giving away public concessions without receiving any revenue for the city. It was then put to a vote and lost as follows: Yeas, Baker, Keyes, Knauber and Redman; noes, Ashbrook, Bazler, Faust, Riggs and Newkirk.

Council then went back to ordinances on first reading and the one introduced by Knauber relating to salaries for extra and sub-police was reconsidered and killed.

A new ordinance was introduced by Mr. Knauber fixing the salaries of extra and substitute policemen and firemen at the minimum salary of $85 per month. This was passed unanimously under a suspension of the rules.

Under the head of Miscellaneous, business Councilman Keyes, chairman of the finance committee, questioned that members of that committee meet at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, January 18, after which council adjourned.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starved. Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Evans' Drug Store who you all know is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and drive away even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once, immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Evans' Drug Store to guarantee it in every instance.—Adv.

NO TIME FOR NERVES.

A report from a leading English hospital says that there has been a marked decline in nervous troubles among the English women since the war began. One might think that all this anxiety and sorrow would augment such ailments. But it works just the other way. The women are more than busy, and those who are nervous don't have any time to think of their bad feelings.

Modern life under pre-war conditions gave many women a great deal of leisure. With servants to cook and bake and sweep, they had ample time for reflection. A bad feeling of any kind could be scrutinized and analyzed, taken to physicians and talked about with friends. But the more you fuss over a trouble arising from overstrained nerves, the worse it gets. Physicians and medicines are helpless.

People who perform manual labor are not much subject to such afflictions. They come from three sources: too much mental work and worry, too much social and other dissipation, and too much thinking about oneself.

These conditions for many people were much relieved by the busy lives that former people of leisure have led in war time. The woman who has consented for the country's good to enter a munition factory has no longer time to consider she is feeling as well as she did the day before, or minutely to analyze and compare the sensations following the use of different medicines.

WASTE IS CRIMINAL.

"To waste now is nothing short of criminal."—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

The duty of the American people to economize in consumption of food and all other materials as well as save money, can not be too often or too strongly urged upon them. The duty is so imperative, its observance so vital to our country's success, that it should be kept constantly before them.

The proposition is plain and understandable. We have lessened the productive powers of the country by taking 2,000,000 men away from the productive forces of the country; instead of producers of one kind or another the soldiers are consumers of the products of our farms, factories, and mines, and when the munitions they expend and will expend against the enemy is considered they are tremendous consumers of the manufactured products of the country.

A tremendous amount of the manufacturing energy of the country has been withdrawn from manufacturing the things we use in peace and put to manufacturing the things we use in war. The total loss to the country of the productive energy of our soldiers and sailors and the diversion of a great portion of the other productive energy of the country to war purposes lessen to a great extent the amount of material and supplies produced by the country.

To this condition of lessened production and increased consumption of and by our own men must be added the extraordinary demand made upon this country to supply the armies of our allies and to a great extent their population with food and other material.

We must meet the condition that confronts us in two ways—by the strictest economy in consumption, for every pound we refrain from using adds a pound to be devoted to the uses of our army and navy and the military forces of our allies; and by speeding up our production to the limit. The American people are going to do all that they know to be necessary to win this war—to shorten this war. They have only to realize the imperative duty of economy in saving and they will economize and save.

However long the war may last and however great may be its cost, every dollar of that cost can be recompensed if lessons of thrift can be taught thoroughly to people of the United States. Buy War Savings stamps till it hurts.

Our country is at war. This war must be won. The most essential thing necessary to win it is money. Everyone can help furnish money, when Thrift stamps are obtainable for 25 cents each.

OUR PROBLEM.

(By Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, President Stanford University.)

It is surprising how few of our Americans have grasped the significance of the fact that in Austria, a country that has contributed materially to this war, there is, as the result of at least two harvests, piled practically Government-owned wheat much of it in the open air, where it can not be adequately protected from various kinds of damage. Yet we have had an unprecedented call upon our wheat supply in this country and Canada resulting in a great increase in prices, due to the fact that the European nations absolutely required wheat for the sustenance of their people. The answer to this apparent anomaly is that it takes three times as long for a ship to go to Australia for food as it does to go to Canada or the United States, and the world has not the shipping available for the long hauls because of the submarine menace and the exigencies of war.

Oil and other food stocks are also piled upon the Asiatic and African coasts awaiting shipment, while we are using food fats in our soup because we can not get at these stores. The most pressing problem before the United States and the nations engaged with it in the war against the Hohenzollern dynasty is to supply food and ships and thus defeat the German submarine attack upon the left flank of the western front.

The western front simply must be maintained and must eventually be pushed forward by Americans, or there will be no final conclusion to the great catastrophe.

Many of our people do not seem to realize that we have entered into the great struggle of autocracy versus democracy, and that President Wilson has said that we can not conclude peace with any but a constituted representative of the German people. That means that we must defeat the most powerful war lord in all history, who has at his command the most wonderful war machine that has ever been devised.

We can not defeat him with a pounding of drums or waving of flags or with any form of national hysteria. We can only do it by concerted action in food saving, shipbuilding, munitions making, and soldier training. The sooner we settle down to this terrible task the sooner it will be over. Every day that we are in our grasp of our responsibility means the loss of so many hundred, or so many thousand of our own boys, who will have to go to the trenches for that much longer period of time. If we can resolutely and successfully meet this problem in the next 12 months, it is probable that we can by that time see what the conclusion is likely to be.

At the present time no man can say what will be the outcome. Germany now occupies the position of a victor. We dare not let her remain so. Every ounce of energy that we can put into the fight we must use, whether it be in the production of food, in the suppression of German propaganda, in the building of airships, in sustaining our embargo, or in carrying on our productive forms of industrial and agricultural life in the best way possible. Until we begin as a people to individually take a personal interest in every phase of this war, and until the most interesting thing to every American when he rises in the morning is what happened on the western front the day before, we are not only in danger, that autocratic forms of government will replace those in which we now take such pride and satisfaction.

"NO ANNEXATIONS."

(Philadelphia Record.)

The German negotiations at Brest-Litovsk show how absolutely impossible it is to enter into any sort of negotiations with Germany until the Kaiser is so far beaten by the Allies, or intimidated by his subjects, that he asks for terms.

Apparently there is not a straight or honest hair on the head of any German statesman. Force was for many years the only morality Germans acknowledged. To the intense astonishment of Germany, force has failed to establish Germany in control of the world. Subterfuge and deception, therefore, are resorted to.

Count Czernin and Dr. von Kuehlmann accepted the principle of "peace without annexation," and the guileless Russian commissioners imagined they were on the high road to a compromise settlement with Germany. But just as soon as the principle is accepted and the peace negotiators proceed to the arrangement of details, Germany shows its cloven hoof by proposing that Poland and the Baltic provinces shall elect which empire they shall belong to, and the election shall be taken under the guns of the German army. The voting would be from the same scene that Belgium is happy and prosperous while the German army is brutally robbing it.

At present it appears that the Russians are not so eager for peace as to accept it on the German terms. Any German terms will cover force or fraud or deception or intrigue. It is impossible to reach any agreement with Germany by negotiation. There is nothing to be had but to pound Germany until either the German people or the people cry out for the terms of the Allies.

But these negotiations in Brest-Litovsk are not without significance, for they disclose the extremity of the Imperial Government. The Kaiser, his Government and his army are hopelessly discredited if the Germans recognize their defeat, and it is doubtful if they will submit longer to a government that deceived them and an army that allied them. But the Kaiser and his Government know that no indemnities can be extorted from any enemy, and that without indemnities the cost of the war will crush the German nation. They know also that they stand no chance of getting any territorial gains in the west; they are only too likely to be obliged to give up Alsace-Lorraine. Consequently the Kaiser has not to make territorial gains in Russia, or stand before his people as an impostor. And therefore, desperately as Germany needs peace on the east in order to concentrate all its resources in the west, it makes the preposterous play for territory in the deal with Russia at the risk of a break of negotiations, which is reported to have occurred. It is vitally important to the Kaiser to act peace with Russia, but it is as vitally important to him to see a large part of Russia to "save his face."

The present situation is not favorable for him, and if the negotiations are really broken off he cannot afford to transfer any more troops from the Russian to the Franco-Belgian front.

A Director of Training.

The appointment of Maj. Gen. John V. Morrison to be director of training corrects a fault in the organization of the Army of the United States to which Major General Leonard Wood called attention months ago and to which French and British officers have been calling attention ever since. We have no training system today. The attempts at training at the various cantonments are as different in detail as the individualities of the commanders. Gen. Morrison will quickly set up a standard, install a system and effect that co-ordination without which any alleged system of training must fail.—Boston Transcript.

Fail to Obey Signals.

This is an ominous feature of the report by the chief of the Interstate Commerce Commission's Bureau of Safety in which it is recorded that the principal cause of collisions on railways the past year was disregard of block signals. Naturally the question is raised, why block signals? If they are to be disregarded? It seems that it is up to the railroads to answer this with an emphatic statement that they are not to be disregarded, and this answer should come in the shape of swift and ample punishment to the guilty ones. Because lives by the thousands are being snuffed out on the battlefields of Europe, there is no reason that carelessness in America should add to the violent death list.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Silly Glances.

This world is so full of a number of glances it's really more silly than anyone thinks.

The silliest one, and these surely are, is the wink with a mustache like two polka dots.

And the lady quirk, too, we must not forget her. Who on silliest days wraps herself up in fur.

Did You Know?

That in the legends of Hercules it is told that he was commanded to struggle with monstrous embodiments of evil? These were known as the Twelve Labors of Hercules and were as follows:

1. Wrestling with the Nemean lion.
2. Destruction of the Lernean hydra.
3. Capture of the Arcadian hind.
4. Capture of the boar of Erymanthus.
5. Cleansing of the stables of Augeas.
6. Shooting the Scythian birds.
7. Capture of the Cretan bull.
8. Capture of the man-eating mares of the Thracian Diomedes.
9. Seizure of the girdle of Hippolyte, queen of the Amazons.
10. Bridging the oxen of Gerion from Erythia.
11. Bringing the golden apples from the garden of the Hesperides.
12. Carrying Cerberus from Hades to the upper world.

Good Dope.

Cheer up, old scout! Let's have a song! Don't look so glum, get up and sing! Don't think the whole blame world is wrong Because your liver is—

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 30c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CATHOLIC PRIEST TRENCH FIGHTER AT GRANVILLE, O.

Lieutenant Paul Perigord, who has been released to the speaking division of the committee on public information by the French High Commission to go throughout the country telling of his experience in the French army, is a Catholic priest who, at the beginning of the war, renounced his ecclesiastical prospects and enlisted as a soldier of France. He saw two years of active service and during these two years he was frequently decorated for personal bravery. After being wounded and re-entering the trenches several times, he has at last been detailed for service in training American soldiers and has just come from France. Because of his excellent education, attractive personality, and ability as a speaker, re-enforced by his unusual and direct knowledge of the great war, he is in a position to bring home to the American people the truth about the war.

The government allows him to speak not often than twice a day. President Chamberlain has secured him to speak at Granville on Monday, January 14th. If Newark desires the privilege of hearing him speak, Dr. Chamberlain is willing to give the county seat the preference in the hour, as he can arrange for the students to assemble at 11 a. m. and throwing open the doors to the public.

COAL TRUCK MEETS WITH ACCIDENT IN WEST MAIN STREET

One of the large motor trucks belonging to Charles McNeal, loaded with six tons of coal, met with an accident last night at 10 o'clock at the northeast corner of Fifth and Main streets. The snow had drifted in such a manner that the iron plate covering the sewer could not be distinguished and in turning the corner one of the rear wheels of the truck ran over it breaking the plate and the wheel was so caught that it was necessary for a force of eight men to work until 1:30 before it could be released. Apparently there was no damage done to the truck but the plate will have to be replaced with a new one. The coal was assigned to the High school and as soon as the wheel was released it was unloaded without any loss.

Our Boys and Girls

Our busy mother has solved to her entire satisfaction the problem of fresh air for her baby. Busy all day with her work, she has only a short half hour to take him out for a ride in his carriage, but fresh air the boy must have and lots of it, so she bundles him up in his warm coat and bonnet, puts on his thick mittens, places a hot-water bottle at his feet and deposits him in the big clothes basket in front of an open window.

A package of absorbent cotton will be found very useful, with boric acid, to wash baby's mouth and to use for the powder puff and to put on vaseline. Use vaseline for the hair, too. It not only will remove the scabby foundation which often appears on the top of the head, but will prevent its forming. This comes from neglecting to clean thoroughly this tender place through fear of hurting the baby. It really is not so tender that it will not stand the rubbing necessary to keep it clean. In case it has already formed an application of green soap will loosen it and it can then be easily removed with the baby comb, being careful not to scratch the skin.

RHEUMATISM

Physician Believes a Genuine Remedy for the Disease Has Been Found.

Rheuma, the wonderful rheumatism remedy sold by T. J. Evans and all druggists gives quicker and more lasting relief than other remedies costing many times as much.

Rheuma passes the deadly poisonous secretions into the bowels and kidneys, from which they are quickly thrown off in a natural, healthy way.

Read what a reputable physician says about Rheuma: "I have made a most careful investigation of the formula employed in the manufacture of Rheuma, and I heartily recommend it as a remedy for all forms of rheumatism. I find Rheuma far in advance of the methods generally employed in the treatment of rheumatism, and altogether different in composition from the remedies usually prescribed."—Dr. M. C. Lyons.

This should give any sufferer from rheumatism confidence to try Rheuma. 1-4-8-11

obtained, while the British later in the week advanced their trenches in this area.

"Minor raids were carried on throughout the week by both the British and Germans. Numerous patrol encounters were also reported.

"Intense artillery bombardments in the Lens and Cambrai sectors would indicate that the enemy has selected this terrain for a concentrated assault.

"The French front remains relatively quiet. Severe cold prevailed. Spirited artillery duels were reported in Champagne and in the region of the right bank of the Meuse. Hostile infantry activity was noted in the region east of St. Mihiel and near St. Quentin, but the efforts to set in motion an attack against the French lines were in each case readily dispersed.

"After fighting on the defensive for 10 weeks the Italians firmly supported by the French-British forces, have been able to reorganize their dispositions in the field. Thereupon the French, seizing a favorable opportunity passed to the offensive in the neighborhood of the Monte Tomba. The outcome of their undertaking was singularly fortunate.

This vitally important strategic point, which had it remained in the hands of the enemy, would have afforded him great advantage, was taken by the French as the climax of a dashing assault against very strong and difficult positions.

"Nearly 1400 Austrian prisoners were captured.

"The success of the French turned the scale. The Italians, encouraged by this victory, at once set about driving the enemy across the Piave. The Austrians sought to effect a crossing of the river in the vicinity of Intestadura, about 10 miles from the Adriatic. Large contingents were gathered together for this operation.

Owing to the vigorous nature of Italian resistance complete failure attended the undertaking and the enemy was driven back with serious loss. The Austrian detachments which have held the bridgehead at Zenson on the right bank of the Piave for the past five weeks were also driven off by an impetuous attack and forced to retire across the river so that no hostile units now remain on the west bank of the Piave.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Amsterdam, Jan. 8.—King Ludwig of Bavaria is quoted in a Munich dispatch as having said yesterday that a reception on his birthday that the terms of Germany's enemies were exorbitant.

"Not an inch of German territory will be given up," he declared. "We must try to safeguard our frontiers." Asserting that the Bavarians, like the other Germans, were victorious everywhere the king added:

"May we succeed also in defeating our latest enemies the Americans."

CHOPSTICKS ARE NOW PASSE

Chinese Insanitary Methods of Eating Affected by European and American Influences.

Fancy yourself a guest for the first time at a Chinese dinner. In front of you, as you seat yourself on your backless chair, are a small plate, a spoon for soups, and a pair of chopsticks. Of the intricacies of the manipulation of the latter nothing need here be said; it is a matter of practice. Each course is brought on in a large dish and placed in the center of the table. The service, then, is simple; each person serves himself, and the service is direct.

You will, and so will everybody else at that table, put your sticks into the dish in the center, convey therefrom food to your mouth, insert the sticks into your mouth as far as you choose—and return to the center dish for more.

Nathaniel Pfeffer writes in World Outlook. By the time each guest has had three helpings it will require skillful maneuvering to get a piece that has not been touched over by sticks that have made at least two trips to at least one other person's mouth.

The sanitary consequences are obvious. As the chain is as strong as its weakest link, so the health of that company is as good as that of its sickest guest. And if you have been brought up under the tutelage of occidental doctors and have an uncomfortable knowledge of germs, your mind dwells uncomfortably as you eat, on the condition of your fellow-guests. If by chance your vis-a-vis remarks in passing that he has a bad cold, your hunger may be appeased quite suddenly.

Little by little, however, this is being changed. Today in the homes of many upper class Chinese, who have been educated in Europe or America or have come into contact with foreign influences, the system of individual dishes and individual service is coming more and more into use.

pared social program will be arranged. The new officers are as follows:

Vice president—Jacob Vollmer.

typos for ten years and during that time has proven his efficiency and worth by keeping his records in excellent shape and looking after the collections with a tenacity which has earned for him the sobriquet of
"watch dog of the treasury."

Mr. Burton has had a varied experience in his profession, being acquainted over a greater part of the country and having worked in scores of the larger cities in his early career when type-setting machines were unknown. He has worked side by side at the cases with men who have since become famous and whose names are now household words. He has gone through the various duties of an establishment from devil to editor, and for a number of years was the proprietor and editor of a country weekly.

Mr. Burton's many friends will wish him continued enjoyment of his office until he is ready to retire on his hundredth birthday, anniversary and that he may meet with the same measure of success in its conduct in the future that he has in the past.

pro-German sympathies. All are of German or Austrian descent, six were born abroad and two were natives of the United States—one from Kentucky and the other of Ohio. The discharges from service were individual and came about separately as the attitude of the men was brought to the attention of the authorities by fellow employees to whom they had expressed themselves as inimical to the cause of the United States.

DO SOMETHING FOR THAT COUGH

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will prove ideal treatment.

A neglected cough may lead to such dangerous bronchial or lung ailments, that proper attention should be given to it promptly.
You can absolutely depend on this remedy as it has proved effective in thousands of cases where a hacking cough, difficult breathing, inflammation or hoarseness were involved. Its balsam and healing ingredients soothe the throat, loosen the phlegm, the antiseptic properties, check the cold germs and feverish or grippish feelings are promptly allayed.

Take Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey at once, not only for quick and gratifying relief for all distressing symptoms, but to prevent serious after-effects. Don't let a cough hang on all winter; delay is dangerous.
The flavor is so pleasant that children need no inducement to take it.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR YOUR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity,
Prevents Food Fermentation,
Drives Out Gas, Stops Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bismurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure Bismurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bismu-rated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the Bismu-rated Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

MR. HOPKINS' SON JOINS AVIATION SERVICE FOR U. S.

Mr. W. E. Hopkins, director of the Associated Charities of Newark, who has been in war work for several months, being in charge of the Fosdick training camp activities at Houston, Texas, has been selected by the war department to go to different training camps for emergency work. Writing to the Advocate at Houston, January 3, Mr. Hopkins says in part:

"A man has arrived from Des-Moines, Ia., to relieve me and I expect to start out the last of this month after training in my man."
"I read the cold of the north, after this balmy winter, but shall be well paid for the change if I am enabled to call at Newark in my travels. I expect my schedule in a few days and shall try hard to make Newark on Rotary day."

One very serious argument against leaving Texas has just been presented by my oldest son from Chicago. He has passed his examinations for the aviation service and won highest points for a flyer.

"With recommendation for first lieutenant, he is now on his way to Texas for training and I may not see him. But such is the fate of war and I am ready to do my part or end my loss. We must win, and in Chicago we say, 'We Will.'"
You remember that I came to you from Chicago?

"With New Year greetings to all."
Every man to his trade. Don't try to improve your time by tinkering at your own watch.
